

INFORMATION ABOUT THE PUBLICATION FEE

Records of Natural Products (RNP) as an international journal has been serving as an open access since 2007 to our valuable scientists. As a first open access journal in the field of natural products chemistry in the world, it has been able to continue its publication through self-financing. However, considering the number of articles submitted to our journal and the number of articles published accordingly, the possibility of making a fast and sustainable publication is seriously compromised. ACG Publications does not have any publishing income other than the sponsors, and has made it its goal to present the publications only for the benefit of the scientific community. On the other hand, it has been seriously difficult to continue without enough income. Thus, Records of Natural Products has to charge the accepted manuscripts with a little publication fee, compared with the other online scientific journals. It should be noticed that RNP is not a profit-making establishment. Its goal is to make it possible for scientists to access to their own knowledge, produced by their own efforts and financial sources, through their colleges and institutions free of charge. This was the greatest desire of Professor Katritzky as a pioneer of OPEN ACCESS publishing. In this respect, we would like to express our expectation to the authors to be supportive of this decision, so that our scientific publications can be sustained at reasonable prices. We believe that you will save Records of Natural Products from impact factor of big publication cartels by publishing your studies in Records of Natural Products and referencing the studies published in Records of Natural Products in your articles.

The following prices in the table are requested for the articles to be published in the Records of Natural Products. It should not be forgotten that these fees will only be requested after a manuscript has been accepted, and this will not cause any slight change in the manuscript evaluation criteria and qualities. On the contrary, with a stronger and faster evaluation process, the submitted articles will meet the scientific world even more quickly.

Publication fees for the different kind of articles are given below.

Article Type	Number of Pages	Publication fee
Review Article	1-50	400 USD
Book Reviews	1-2	100 USD
Original Articles	1-20	450 USD
